

Christopher Veum, AIA, IIDA

President, AVRP Skyport

Christopher Veum, Associate AIA and Affiliate IIDA, President of AVRP Skyport, oversees the company's workplace and healthcare design. He focuses on the current and future needs of a divergent, multigenerational population and how those different generations have and will change the built environment. As a recognized thought leader, it is his passion to make the workplace more productive, efficient and aligned with each organization's culture, values and vision. He is also a frequent speaker at national conferences on healthcare design. He focuses on the patient experience, family-centered care and staff efficiencies to enhance the healing environment.

At 26, he was one of the youngest designers to receive a national AIA design award. He is a consummate researcher and award-winning designer, recognized by clients and peers as a keen strategist. Some of his clients include Microsoft (globally), Nokia, Intel, Cymer, Red Door Interactive, Sharp Hospital, Sharp Rees-Stealy. Veum's projects have topped many publications' list such as Forbes Magazine's Top 10 Coolest Office in America, among others.
