

AVRP Studios Wins FOUR Gold Nugget Awards of Merit for Exceptional Designs

AVRP has earned one or more Gold Nugget awards at the annual Pacific Coast Builders Conference for the better part of two decades.

SAN DIEGO, CA (April 27, 2023)---AVRP Studios is proud to announce it received four Gold Nugget Awards of Merit earlier this week for its outstanding architectural designs.

These awards, presented annually at the Pacific Coast Builders Conference, recognize exceptional achievements in the design and planning of residential and commercial properties throughout the western United States and internationally. The Gold Nugget Grand Award winners will be announced in May at an awards ceremony in Anaheim, emerging from the Merit Awards in each category.

AVRP Studios' award-winning designs include:

- Best Rehabilitation Project - Includes Office, Commercial and Industrial for AVRP client Red Door Interactive
- Best Educational Project for AVRP client San Diego Unified/Point Loma High School – New Campus Library and Classroom Complex
- Best On-the-Boards Custom/Spec Home for AVRP client The Wilson Residence
- Best On-the-Boards Mixed Use Project for AVRP client 802 S. Pacific

"We are thrilled to receive these awards of merit, especially knowing that each one represents a different studio, or area of practice, within our firm," said Doug Austin FAIA, Founder and Chairman of AVRP Studios.

Red Door Interactive is a project that was designed by AVRPs Workplace Studio, led by Chris Veum.

Point Loma High School was designed in the Campus and Community Studio, which is led by Randy Robbins, AIA, LEED AP.

The Wilson Residence was designed in AVRPs Vancouver office, led by Thomas Anielski.

And finally, 802 S. Pacific was designed within the Urban Studio, led by Doug Austin, FAIA, LEED AP, MAIBC.

AVRP's Robbins said: "We feel really blessed that the design recognition was distributed across all of our areas of practice."

"We are proud of the work we have accomplished and grateful to our clients who trust us to bring their vision to life," said Chris Veum, President of AVRPs Studios. "We look forward to continuing to push the boundaries of design and innovation in the years to come."

These new accolades build upon AVRPs Studios' previous success as a Gold Nugget awards recipient. The firm has earned similar words for the better part of two decades. Last year, for example, AVRPs won a Gold Nugget award for the Aura Biomed space, a three-story laboratory office building designed for commercial life science tenants in San Diego.

ABOUT: AVRPs Studios is a San Diego-based architecture, planning, and interior design firm committed to creating exceptional spaces that enrich the human experience.
